PARRIS ISLAND TEAM WINS ELLIOT TROPHY

The Parris Island Rifle Team won first place in the Elliot Trophy Match fired last week at Quantico. The course fired in this match consists of the regular Army Course with two sighting-in shots and ten shots for record at a thousand yards.

The Elliot Trophy is awarded annually to the winning team from a Marine Corps Post. The cup was presented at the conclusion of the match on the range at Quantico.

MARINE AVIATORS MAKE RECORD FLIGHT

Major Roy S. Geiger, who commands the Marine Flying Field at Quantico last week, flew 900 miles in nine and a half hours, setting a new record in service aviation.

Major Geiger, accompanied by First Sergeant Belsher, left Quantico in a DeHaviland 4 at 4:30 a. m. A landing was made at Fayetteville, N. C., at 8 a. m. After an hour's rest the flight was resumed and the second landing made at Americus, Ga., at 12:30. Continuing, the plane reached Pensacola, its destination, at 3:40.

The distance from Quantico to Pensacola is 900 miles and the actual flying time consumed was nine and one-half hours, or an average speed of 94.7 miles an hour. Counting the time of the landings only eleven hours were consumed in making the trip, an average of 81.8 miles an hour.

MARINE BAND BEGINS SUMMER SCHEDULE

Beginning this week the Marine Band will play according to its regular summer schedule. This includes the usual Monday afternoon concert at the Marine Barracks, concerts in the various public parks every Tuesday and Thursday evening, and a concert on the lawn of the White House every Wednesday afternoon.

In addition to these concerts a section of the Band will play every Wednesday night at Anacostia for radio-phone broadcasting.

PROGRAM FOR SECOND DIVISION REUNION

The committee in charge of arrangements for the Second Division Reunion at Quantico June 6th, 7th, and 8th, with the cooperation of General Smedley D. Butler, Commanding General of the Post, who arranged the schedule of events, announces the following program for the entertainment of the guests:

June 6 (Guests will arrive on this date):

6:45 p. m.—Dress parade by Fifth Regiment.

7:30 p. m.—Dinner served by Sixth Regiment in the Stadium.

8:30 p. m.—Entertainment in Stadium by Sixth Regiment.

June 7:

9:30 a. m.—Business meeting in Gymnasium.

2:15 p. m.—Baseball game.

4:30 p. m.—Memorial exercises in Gymnasium.

6:45 p. m.—Dress parade by Sixth Regiment.

7:30 p. m.—Ball in Stadium by Fifth Regiment.

June 8:

9:00 a. m.—Review of Command.

Guests depart during day.

Guests are invited to look over the post at any time during their visit and transportation will be provided for that purpose.

MARINE RIFLEMAN ESTABLISHES RECORD

In winning first place in the Marine Corps Competition held at Quantico last week, Sergeant Major Leo P. Cartier, who also captured the Eastern Division Competition, as announced last week, set a new record for the course. Sergeant Cartier made a total of six hundred and sixty-seven.

The names, posts, scores and medals of the first eight in the Marine Corps Competition follow:

Sergeant Major Leo. P. Cartier, Quantico, Va.	667, Gold Medal
Captain Emmett W. Skinner, Quantico, Va.	653, Silver Medal
Sergeant Stephen J. Dickerson, West Indies	653, Silver Medal
Corporal Oliver P. Dailey, West Indies	652, Silver Medal
Private James A. Wilkins, Mare Island	649, Bronze Medal
Private Alfred L. Shannon, Quantico, Va.	644, Bronze Medal
Sergeant Carl R. Fuqua, West Indies	644, Bronze Medal
Gunnery Sergeant Bill E. Clary, Boston	643, Bronze Medal

Enlisted Men's Dance

An unusually large number of visitors were present at the last regular Enlisted Men's Dance given in the Post Gym on May 26. The fact that this was the last regular Post Dance to be given until after the Gettysburg maneuvers increased the attendance. The Gymnasium was as usual attractively decorated. The music was furnished by the Tenth Regiment and Post Bands.

The next dance at the post will be given on June 7th by the Fifth Regiment in honor of the Second Division members who will be in Quantico at that time for their annual reunion. All men in the Post are invited to attend this dance.

Baseball

The baseball team suffered its second defeat of the season at the hands of Georgetown University, the same team which handed out the first defeat. The Hilltoppers have yet to meet defeat this season, though they have played some of the strongest college teams of the country. They have established a reputation as sluggers, and in the second Marine game they lived up to their reputation, having no trouble in getting to Moore's offerings early and often. The Marines on the other hand couldn't find the ball when hits would have counted and had to yield to the tune of 11-3.

General Pershing Inspects Marines

General Pershing motored down to Quantico last week and inspected the Post. The General arrived about twelve-thirty and after luncheon at the Hostess

House reviewed the troops stationed at the Post on the parade ground. After the review the inspecting party visited the Marine Flying Field.

The General was entertained at tea at the residence of the Commanding General and then motored back to Washington.

BRITISH ADMIRAL VISITS POST

Sunday the Post was visited by Admiral Sir William C. Pakenham and the crew of H. M. S. Raleigh. The British man-of-war was forced to dock here for the night as the Potomac's channel is not adaptable for night trips, especially to a strange vessel.

A section of seats in the Post Gym were reserved for the English "Gobs" who were out in force to see how the Quantico Marines spend their spare time. Admiral Pakenham and his party arrived at the show with General Butler about 8:30. Before the show started, both the Admiral and General Butler made short addresses to the men. Admiral Pakenham emphasized the necessity of the mutual friendliness of the two great English speaking nations. As most of the Post regulations governing the Sunday routine had been broken, the Commanding General righted everything by declaring "nothing can be wrong when Anglo-Saxons get together."

The addresses were followed by mass singing, led by Dave Slayton, Quantico song leader, and the singing was followed by the movies. Three rousing cheers were given for the guests which threatened to take the roof off the Gym.

The H. M. S. Raleigh left Monday morning on the last lap of its trip to Washington.

DO YOUR STUFF!

When your time has come to work,
Do your stuff.
Let the other fellow shirk,
Do your stuff.
Roll your sleeves up elbow high,
Dig into the job nearby,
Do not say, "Oh, I'll get by."
Do your stuff.

When the job looks pretty tough,
Do your stuff.
Do not simply make a bluff,
Do your stuff.
When you're game enough to try
Some course in the M. C. I.,
Set your gears and go "on high."
Do your stuff.

Other fellows do their bit,
Do your stuff.
Marines were never known to quit,
Do your stuff.
Though the pace is fit to kill,
You can be a winner, still,
If you'll only say, "I will!"
Do your stuff.

Threat to Use the Marines Ends Revolution in Nicaragua, says a newspaper headline. That sort of a threat is usually sufficient to end a revolution anywhere.

May Use Marines to Guard Post Offices Again, another headline. Apparently the first example of Marine Corps efficiency along that line has not gone unnoticed.

Marines Guard Railroad While Chinese Battle, reads still another headline. When the Marines are on duty in China, the Chinese don't even get a Pekin. (Did somebody say "peek in"?)

It Happens

Little Alice (reading)—Papa, do Marines eat lumber?

Papa—Certainly not, my child. Why?
Little Alice—This book says, "Marines have good appetites, and they often dine on shipboard."

Not Qualified.

"I'll never make a first class Gob,"
Wrote Bill to sister Lucy.
"I understand a sailor's job,
But can't play Acey Deucey."

Mother Was Uneasy

When a Marine wrote and told his mother he was "attached to Managua, Nicaragua," his mother advised him by return mail, "Don't propose to her until you send me her photograph."

She Wanted to Marry—

A Marine who was as strong as Jack Dempsey, as good-looking as Wallie Reid, as athletic as Doug. Fairbanks, and with as many brains as Lloyd George.

A Marine who would sooner stay at home and read Emerson's Essays than play Black Jack.

A Marine who would never forget to do anything she would tell him to do.

A Marine who would wash the dishes and clean the house.

A Marine who had an amiable disposition at all times.

A Marine who would turn down a side street if he saw a Flapper coming.

A Marine who liked to teach a Sunday School Class.

A Marine who would hand her the monthly bankroll.

A Marine who didn't swear or get angry.

A Marine who didn't smoke or drink.
The lady is now ninety-five years old.
She's still single.

The Perfect Marine

There's one Marine who's perfect,
And ideal in every way;
He doesn't drink, or smoke, or swear,
He's good the livelong day.
He's standing at "Attention,"
And never bats an eye;
I see him on the poster
As I go walking by.

Movies that Get Your Goat

The movie that shows the hero dying of thirst in the desert, and while you are witnessing his death agonies you realize there is a camera man nearby who could give him assistance if he wanted to.

Where the hero slips the poor old man a dime in the first reel, and in the fourth reel the old man dies and leaves the hero four million bucks.

Where the caption reads, "Saved by the U. S. Marines," and a few seconds later you see a boatload of Gobs in nondescript uniforms coming to the rescue.

Where the first reel registers "sorrow," the second reel "agony," the third reel "despair," and the fourth reel "suicide."

Where the hero enlists as a buck private and is a colonel in charge of a regiment within six months.

Where the hero runs away with the barber's daughter and has a "close shave" when her old man catches him.

ON THE TRAIL OF CASABIANCA

CHAPTER III

Synopsis: Nothing much has happened to Dave so far. In the preceding chapters he was nearly cut in two by the machetes of two Haitian bandits; he tumbled over the precipice while pursuing Casabianca; he fell from an airplane into the Caribbean, and was almost eaten by a shark. Outside of that his life has been uneventful. Leaving him aboard the rebel craft in the Caribbean, face to face with the dreaded bandit Casabianca, we return temporarily to Port-au-Prince.

Fifi Flapperino, the belle of Port-au-Prince, was sitting in her boudoir, trying to take the permanent wave out of her bobbed locks. She was the only jane in Haiti who didn't claim at least one of her ancestors had been President.

Fifi had been strong for Devil Dog Dave ever since he gave her a piece of the birthday cake his sister sent him from Tombstone, Arizona.

Outside of being fond of Devil Dog Dave, Fifi had many other virtues. She had been to a finishing school in Paris and knew how to read, write, cook, sew, and paint bluebirds on cocoanut shells. She could also shake a mean hoof with the best fox trotters in the island.

Fifi's father had run for Mayor of Port-au-Prince, and after the election was over he had never stopped running until he reached Santo Domingo. Her uncle had been hanged for highway robbery, and two of her brothers were doing time in jail. So Fifi was prominent among the local aristocracy.

Fifi was worried. She hadn't heard from Dave for two weeks. She knew of his determination to capture Casabianca, the dreaded bandit. She knew that Casabianca would never forgive her for spurning his attentions for the handsome Dave. Would Casabianca cut off Dave's ears and send them to Fifi as a souvenir, as he had threatened? Who knows?

Spurred by her fears Fifi determined to start in search of Dave. She left for the hills in light marching order. Her only equipment was one powder puff, one box of cold cream for her complexion, one lip stick, one box of rouge, one bottle of eau de cologne, and one vanity case that contained a change of clothing.

Slipping out of the house in the dead of night Fifi headed for the mountainous outpost where she believed she would find the Marine.

What if Dave should be captured? What if the cruel natives should offer him as a human sacrifice to the voodoo worshippers?

On and on over the treacherous mountain trails Fifi traveled. Suddenly she saw a sight that almost made her heart stop beating. Through the thick tropical foliage she saw a circle of natives performing the weird rites of the voodoo worshippers.

She turned to retreat . . . it was too late. . . . She had been seen, and a moment later she had been captured and dragged into the confines of the circle. As she saw the horrible grin of the voodoo priest, Fifi screamed. . . . For a moment she thought she was lost.

Do You Know

That three loafers, taken in a raid on a pool-room in Omaha, were sentenced in police court to spend 10 days in the public library?

That grape growers of Southern California have named a new town Volstead.

That London University, with an enrollment of 20,000 students, makes the claim of the largest attendance of any institution of learning in the world?

That hundreds of admirers of John Burroughs tramped miles to be present at the unveiling of a tablet of bronze in honor of the great naturalist, at the Burroughs homestead, April 3? The unveiling was by Ursula and John Burroughs, grandchildren of the naturalist.

That one of the largest apple orchards in the world, located near Dufur, Oregon, soon will be destroyed to make room for the more valuable product of wheat?

That a baby born into this world now has less chance to live one week than a man 90 years old, according to the New York State Commissioner of Health?

That the vessels passing through the Suez Canal in 1921 carried 18,118,999 net tons? This is an increase of 544,000 tons over 1920, although there was a decrease of 34 in the number of vessels run.

That rain or snow falls five days out of every six in South Georgia, an outpost of the Antarctic Ocean, east of Cape Horn?

That a new railroad connecting the largest mining center in Mexico, Pachuca, with Tampico, is to be constructed through three states in Mexico?

That nearly $750,000,000 must be expended annually to keep pace with the increasing demand for power and light in the United States? Last year electric energy measuring 43,100,000,000 kilowatt hours was consumed.

That tomatoes, spinach, celery and cabbage are 92 per cent water.

That nearly 2,000,000 miles were traveled by French airplanes of the commercial type in 1921. This involved more than 6,000 flights?

That a decree restricting emigration of Mexican laborers to the United States has been signed by President Obregon?

That milk from the soya bean is now being made in Vienna at one-sixth the cost of fresh milk?

That Vanua Lava, an island in the New Hebrides, is literally a mountain of sulphur, 1,600 feet in height and about 100 square miles in base? The mountain is 99 per cent pure sulphur.

That $100,000,000 a year is spent by the people of the United States for buttons made in this country? Besides this $16,000,000 worth were sold abroad since the beginning of the war.

That musical men make the best oarsmen says the Princeton University coach, who states that his best stroke oars have been glee club men?

That a jet deposit, believed to be the first one to be developed in the United States, is now being successfully mined in Utah where the largest known commercial body of the mineral in the world is located?

When the Clean Up Squad visited Marquette, Michigan, a man appeared before it who had walked thirty miles in order to file his claim. He had been discharged from the Army on account of tuberculosis. In an effort to regain his health, he had built a cabin in the woods, where he was found by a member of the American Legion, who informed him of the presence of the Clean Up Squad. He did not realize that the Government would give him hospital treatment and compensation.

Forty-seven disabled veterans who are taking vocational training under the U. S. Veterans Bureau at Boston University, have been placed on the Honor Roll on account of high scholarship, according to a letter received by Col. Charles R. Forbes, Director of the Bureau, from Prof. C. E. Bellaty of the University. John J. Griffin is at the head of the roll, with "A" grades in all subjects. Griffin enlisted as a private, and after two years, service overseas returned as sergeant-major of the 2d Battalion of the 101st Infantry.

OFFICERS' ROW, MARINE BARRACKS, GUANTANAMO BAY, CUBA

THE PICTURE above was taken from the diving platform of the swimming pier in the month of January. The Marines stationed at this post can enjoy a plunge in the waters of the bay every day in the year, as the average temperature of the ocean at this point is about ninety degrees the year round.

Behind the buildings shown in the picture is the parade ground, a practice baseball field, tennis courts, handball courts, a boxing ring on a raised platform, and the quarters of the men entirely open to the air except for wire screening.

On the hills directly to the rear is the signal station and several baseball diamonds, while a mile or so over the hills to the left is the rifle range, or more properly, rifle ranges, as there are several complete ranges, with their concrete butts and concrete tunnels for constant passage in safety from the firing lines to the butts.

What Will You Be Doing One Year From Today?

Three hundred and sixty-five days from now—what?

Will you still be struggling along in the same old job at the same old salary—worried about the future—never quite able to make both ends meet—standing still while other men go ahead?

One year from today will you still be putting off your start toward success—thrilled with ambition one moment and then cold the next—delaying, waiting, fiddling away the precious hours that will never come again?

Don't do it, man—don't do it.

There is no greater tragedy in the world than that of a man who stays in the rut all his life, when with just a little effort he could bring large success within his grasp.

Make up your mind today that you're going to train yourself to do some one thing well. Choose the work you like best in the list below, mark an X beside it, mail the coupon to Scranton, and we will send you, without cost or obligation, the full story of what the I.C.S. can do for you.

Right now you can decide where you will be in 1923.

Common sense will tell you that it is far better to send in this Success Coupon today than to wait another precious year and then wish you had!
